Superior Home Care & Hospice Moves into New, Centralized Facility

Superior's Facility at 184 East 5900 South in Murray

Murray, Utah, 12-Sep-2005 — Superior Home Care & Hospice has relocated its main offices to a new, centralized location in Murray. The new location is in the center of the Salt Lake Valley. At 184 East 5900 South, it is east of State Street and immediately south of Cottonwood Hospital.

“This is an important step,” said Marty Hoelscher, Administrator and CEO of Superior. “We need to be close to our patients in order to continue to provide first class care. This move places our people in the center of the Salt Lake Valley, ready to get to our patients when they need help.”

“This location, so close to Cottonwood Hospital, is really going to improve our visibility in the local community,” according to Gwen Allen, Outreach Director at Superior. “This move will help people to find us when they need help. That includes both health care professionals who refer people to home care agencies and individuals in need of medical assistance at home.”

Superior's skilled medical staff provide home care, hospice, palliative care, diabetes education, and home rehabilitation services to people throughout the Wasatch Front. Superior has been providing a variety of home medical services, operating from its original location in Riverton, since 1996.

“This move not only puts us closer to our patients,” said Marty Hoelscher. “It opens up the possibility to add new services, especially for the care givers and loved ones [of our patients]. We now have an easily accessible location for support groups, family meetings, outreach and education events.”
